

2016 Matsuri-Japan Festival — a great success!

On Saturday 10 December 2016, around 30,000 people attended Matsuri-Japan Festival held in the newly renovated Tumbalong Park at Darling Harbour, Sydney.

Participants in the festival were introduced to Japanese culture through live presentations of taiko drums, bon-odori, kendo demonstrations and even samurai performances. Tea ceremony, calligraphy, origami and flower arrangement workshops were also offered as well as a range of Japanese food, travel advice and tourism information.

The festival is a way for the Japanese community to share and celebrate its culture. Sydney's Japanese community is the seventh largest in the world outside Japan.

The Matsuri-Japan Festival crowd has been getting bigger and bigger year on year. Why not join in the festival fun in 2017?
